

Isn't it about time you stop letting big industry dictate what happens to the consumer? This is yet another example of the absurdity of corporate America and the crimes committed against the American Consumer in its wake.